1 Introduction

Background

- 1.1 This document sets out the figures we will use to calculate the regulatory fees for each PSR fee payer in 2024/25. We publish a similar document each year to provide the updated figures.
- 1.2 When this document refers to 'we' or 'us', this means the Financial Conduct Authority (FCA) and the PSR jointly.
- 1.3 Every year, the PSR receives regulatory fees (PSR fees) from fee payers. We levy these fees to fund the PSR's operations to perform its functions under relevant legislation. These include functions under and as a result of:
  - the Financial Services (Banking Reform) Act 2013 (FSBRA)
  - the Payment Card Interchange Fee Regulations 2015 (PCIFRs)<sup>1</sup>
  - the Payment Services Regulations 2017 (PSRs 2017)
- 1.4 FSBRA enables the FCA to raise fees to fund the PSR to perform its functions.

  The FCA does so through its rules requiring specific groups of legal persons to pay specified amounts, or amounts calculated in a specified way.
- 1.5 The PSR also has functions under the Payment Accounts Regulations 2015 (PARs 2015). The fees payable in relation to these functions are separate from the PSR regulatory fees regime set out here. You can find out more about those fees in a separate document.<sup>2</sup>
- 1.6 The PSR regulatory fees regime, including the collection and allocation methodology that we will use, is set out in Chapter 4 of the FCA's June 2018 policy statement on PSR regulatory fees PS18/12.<sup>3</sup> With effect from 2023/24, we have introduced a minimum yearly threshold of £100 for issuing fees. Further details are set out in Chapter 3 of the PSR's April 2023 policy statement PS23/2 on PSR regulatory fees.<sup>4</sup>

<sup>1</sup> The PCIFRs are the source of the PSR's functions in respect of monitoring and ensuring compliance with the UK version of the Interchange Fee Regulation

- 1.7 Under FSBRA and the PCIFRs, the PSR has the power to impose penalties on firms that fail to comply with obligations that the PSR enforces. Any money collected as a result must be paid to the Treasury after deducting an amount to cover certain enforcement costs, which is called the retained amount. As set out in the PSR's Financial Penalty Scheme, the PSR will return the retained amount to PSR fee payers. It will do this by reducing the money it collects from them in the following fee year (with the exception of any fee payer(s) that were liable to pay a penalty).
- 1.8 As set out in Chapter 3 of the PSR's April 2023 policy statement PS23/2 on regulatory fees, the PSR will now be able to charge special project fees. These fees are payable by operators of payment systems that have a for-profit business model, for work in relation to, or consequential upon, the designation of a new regulated payment system, a new card payment system under the PCIFRs or a new payment system under the PSRs 2017.

Who should be interested in this document?

- 1.9 This document will be of interest to:
  - participants in regulated payment systems under FSBRA
  - regulated persons under the PCIFRs
  - regulated persons under the PSRs 2017
- 1.10 If you are a PSR fee payer, that is, a payment service provider (PSP) that falls under paragraph 1.9 (or a payment system operator acting as such):
  - a. you are required to pay PSR fees that are determined by the allocation method set out in this document and in the FCA Handbook rules in FEES 9 Annex 1R<sup>6</sup>
  - b. you are also required to pay an amount of your PSR fees as a pre-payment each year (that is, on account) if you meet the requirement set out in FEES 9.2.2R; the way that is calculated is specified in FEES 9.2.2R(1)
- 1.11 If you are a payment system operator who falls under one of the groups in paragraph 1.9:
  - a. you are required to provide the PSR and FCA with the relevant transaction data and the contact details of the relevant PSPs by 1 March every year; this is set out in the FCA Handbook rule in FEES 9.2.4DR
  - b. you should confirm the accuracy of the transaction data you propose to send to us with any PSP who requests it
- 1.12 This document contains no material directly relevant to retail financial services consumers or consumer groups (although financial services consumers may contribute to regulatory fees indirectly).
- 1.13 For more information on the PSR's fee policy and methodology, see Chapter 4 of PS18/12, and Chapter 3 of PS23/2 for special project fees.

2 2024/25 PSR fees figures and timetable

The annual figures for 2024/25 PSR fees

- 2.1 The annual figures for 2024/25 PSR fees are as follows:
  - a. The annual funding requirement (AFR) for 2024/25, published in the PSR's annual plan, <sup>7</sup> is set at £25,000,000. This has subsequently been increased by £255,270 due to an under recovery of prior years' fees. The total fees figure is £25,255,270 (figures rounded to the nearest £10).
  - b. The denominators for the transaction volume block and the transaction value block are determined by the sum of all fee payers' total transaction volumes and values across all regulated payment systems for the 2023 calendar year. 8 They are:
    - 1. the total transaction volume of all fee payers: 94,616,197,276
    - 2. the total transaction value of all fee payers: £187,177,687,472,850

These figures do not include transactions for PSPs that fall below the minimum fee threshold of £100 (see paragraph 1.6).

2.2 Each payer's PSR fees for 2024/25 are determined by the following formula:

Fees allocated to a PSR fee payer =

its fees under the volume block (Vo) + its fees under the value block (Va) a.

$$\mathbf{Vo} = (\text{f25,255,270} \times 80\%) \times \left( \frac{\text{The sum of the } fee payer's relevant } {volumes \text{ in all systems}} {94,616,197,276} \right)$$

$$Va = (f25,255,270 \times 20\%) \times \left( \frac{values \text{ in all systems}}{187,177,687,472,850} \right)$$

We do this calculation twice. First, we use it to identify PSPs under the £100 threshold. Then we re-run the calculation a second time, without the transactions for PSPs under the £100 threshold, to determine the final fees for eligible fee payers. The figures shown here are for the second calculation. You can read more about the allocation method and formula in PS18/12, paragraphs 4.18 to 4.26.

Payment Systems Regulator Annual Plan and Budget for 2024/25, page 18: https://www.psr.org.uk/publications/annual-plans-and-reports/payment-systems-regulator-annual-plan-and-budget-202425/. The PSR's annual funding requirement for the year is £25,000,000.

<sup>8</sup> We have received the transaction volumes and values data from payment system operators.

- 2.4 The amount of retained penalties for 2023/24 is £nil.
- 2.5 Where applicable for the transaction value block, we will use the HMRC 2023 yearly average foreign exchange rates to convert non-GBP transactions to GBP. These exchange rates are published on GOV.UK.<sup>9</sup> The relevant conversion rates are as follows:

EUR 1.00 = GBP 0.87 USD 1.00 = GBP 0.8044

The timeline for data provision and fees collection for 2024/25 fees

- 2.6 Table 1 sets out the 2024/25 fees collection timeline. This includes the timings for when:
  - a. payment system operators should submit the relevant transaction data and contact details to the PSR and FCA
  - b. the PSR will publish the annual figures for PSR fees for that fee year
  - c. fee payers can expect to pay the PSR fees, after receiving an invoice from the FCA

Table 1: Timeline for PSR fees collection and data provision for 2024/25

February to March 2024	The FCA invoices eligible fee payers <sup>10</sup> for an 'on-account' PSR fee. The fee is calculated by multiplying those fee payers' 2023/24 fee by 50%.  These fee payers pay their on-account fee by 1 April 2024.
	These fee payers pay their on-account fee by 1 April 2024.
By 1 March 2024	Payment system operators submit transaction data for the calendar year 2023, and the relevant contact details, to the PSR and the FCA by 1 March 2024.
July 2024	The PSR publishes the annual PSR fees information for 2024/25 fees (this document) – namely:
	• the PSR's annual funding requirement for 2024/25
	<ul> <li>the transaction data for the calendar year 2023 submitted to the PSR and the FCA by operators</li> </ul>
July to	The FCA invoices all fee payers for their PSR fee for 2024/25.
September 2024	Fee payers that have paid an on-account fee must pay by 1 September 2024 their PSR fee for 2024/25 less any on-account payments made.
	All fee payers pay their PSR fee for 2024/25 within 30 days of receiving the invoice.
